Anglo Platinum acting joint CEO, Norman Mbazima said of the transaction: "These transactions illustrate Anglo Platinum and Anglo American's commitment to broad-based BEE as a strategic transformation initiative. We believe that the creation of two major HDSA managed and controlled participants within the global platinum industry fundamentally enhances BEE and the equitable transformation of the mining industry."

He continued: "We have sold a portfolio of quality, long life assets and created two global PGM participants with critical mass and significant growth potential. We are also pleased with the breadth of the broad-based component of our empowerment efforts. The staff employee scheme and the participation of women's groups and community groupings will add to the investment in Anglo Platinum's social and labour plans as part of its broad-based transformation strategy."

Tumelo Motsisi, Deputy CEO and Managing Director of Anooraq Resources, said: "This transaction accomplishes two of our original objectives. It immediately transforms Anooraq into a significant PGM producer and fulfils Anooraq's and Pelawan's stated objective of creating an HDSA controlled, independent and significant PGM producer. Anooraq's reserves and resources will increase significantly such that we will now control the third largest PGM resource base in South Africa."

"Lebowa is an excellent asset to add to our stable. It has attractive grades, established water, power and road infrastructure and an approved expansion in place to double existing production by 2012 as well as a number of other exciting growth opportunities."

"Upon implementation of the transaction control of the operations at our platinum projects and Lebowa will pass to Anooraq. This will allow us to evaluate our project pipeline and develop the assets in accordance with Anooraq's timetable. We will also be in a position to strengthen our technical capacity through our enhanced relationship with Anglo Platinum."

Lazarus Zim, Executive Chairman of Mvela Resources and Afripalm Resources, said: "Today is a great day for South Africa. When we announced our investment in Mvela Resources we made it clear that our ultimate strategy was about building an operating diversified mining company. This transaction has enabled us to realise an important step in the delivery of that strategy. We fully believe that this is a sustainable, meaningful and substantial transaction and a great deal for independent empowerment mining."

"These transactions have considerable social impact and achieve significant empowerment of local communities by introducing them as shareholders. Afripalm has already set aside 10% of its shares for women and has committed to transfer 51% of its subsidiary, Afripalm 2, to broad-based groups representing at least 5,000 women."

through Unipalm Investment Holdings Limited, which is a 15% shareholder in Afripalm Resources, and trusts, representing broad-based women, employees and communities, which own a further 30% in Afripalm Resources. Unipalm is a national broad-based empowerment group representing more than 30,000 broad-based HDSAs.

Since its inception in 2001, Mvela Resources has acquired significant investments in the South African gold, platinum and diamond sectors, as well as exploration and development joint ventures in sub-Saharan Africa, with a focus on South Africa.
